Jody Daulton

BSN, CSC

Ohio School for the Deaf

Director of Artistic Sign Language Services

Jody Daulton has been interpreting in front of a crowd for more than 40 years. Raised by Deaf parents, Jody brings a wealth of knowledge to the interpreting community. Jody has been certified, CSC, for more than 30 years and has interpreted in such areas as artistic, religious, conference and many other platform level settings. Jody has presented on local and state levels, including OCRID conferences, on the topic of medical, performance and platform interpreting among other subjects. She is currently the Director of Artistic Sign Language Services where she has been providing artistic direction and interpreting for more than 10 years

Linda Ross

Ph.D., CI/CT, NIC Master, Founding Associate of Hallenross and Associates, LLC

Linda has been involved in the field of interpreting in numerous capacities for more than 25 years. She has worked as a freelance interpreter, interpreter coordinator and interpreter educator during her career. She is currently the Founding Associate of Hallenross and Associates, LLC, a sign language interpretation and professional development company. In Addition, she teaches part-time for the University of Northern Colorado, DO IT Center. Linda has presented workshops on various topics related to interpreting at local, state, regional, and national levels. Her favorite work is platform work, particularly from ASL to English at workshops and conferences, thus she presents this workshop to encourage others to explore this aspect of the field and/or to advance their current platform skills.
